Published proceedings are valuable as topical status reports providing quick access to information before it appears in the traditional journal literature. Today, AIP Conference Proceedings contain over 100,000 articles published in 1,700+ proceedings, and is growing by 100 volumes every year. This substantial body of scientific literature is testament to our 40-year history as a world-class publishing partner, recognized internationally and trusted by conference organizers world-winde. Whether you are planning a small specialist workshop or organizing the largest international conference contact us to find out why so many organizers publish with AIP Conference Proceedings. This is the Abstracting and Indexing (A+I) AIP Publishing recognizes the importance of enhancing visibility and discoverability of published research by including published research in abstracting and indexing (A+I) databases that researchers use. We support the work of A+I services by providing researchers with access to all of our published proceedings volumes upon publication. However, how quickly selected proceedings are available in an A+I service is up to the provider; AIP Publishing has no influence on this timeframe. AIP Conference Proceedings are indexed in a number of services, including these leading databases: Publication 'Publication' page. • The Conference Proceedings Citation Index (CPCI, Web of Science) Scopus (Elsevier) Inspec Presentation Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS) Astrophysics Data System (ADS)
